

Marcus Boyd Shook, MD, MACP, MBA received his medical degree from the George Washington University School of Medicine and Health Sciences in Washington DC in 1959. Once graduated from medical school, he moved to Oklahoma to perform his internship and residency in internal medicine, he continued his residency at the Ancker Hospital St. Paul in Minnesota as chief resident. Dr. Shook moved back to Oklahoma and practiced in various hospitals in positions ranging from staff physician to medical director. In 1995, Dr. Shook earned his MBA from Oklahoma City University and in 2004, he was awarded Master Fellow of the American College of Physicians. Dr. Shook currently works in private practice with OU Medicine in Oklahoma City. Prior to his medical career, Dr. Shook served in the US Navy as an electronics technician, 1951 – 1953.