

Ryan Hakimi, DO, MS, NVS, RPNI, CPB, FNCS, FCCM, is a neurointensivist and the Director of Transcranial Doppler Ultrasound Services at Prisma Health-Upstate in Greenville, South Carolina. He is a Professor in the Department of Medicine (Neurology) at the University of South Carolina-Greenville School of Medicine. Previously, he was the first neurointensivist in Oklahoma and the founding Medical Director of the OU Medical Center Neurosciences Intensive Care Unit. He was a United States Department of Energy

Applied Health Physics Fellow, graduated from the Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine, and completed his medicine internship and neurology residency at Michigan State University. He completed a two-year neurocritical care and stroke fellowship at Duke University Medical Center. He is board certified in Neurology, Neurocritical Care, Neurosonology (RPNI), and a Neurovascular Specialist (NVS). He was the first fellowship-trained DO neurointensivist and the first DO to be designated a Fellow of the Neurocritical Care Society.