

Jennifer K. Clark, MD earned her Bachelor's degree from the University of Kansas in Lawrence, Kansas in 1994. She obtained her medical degree from the University of Kansas School of Medicine in Kansas City, Kansas in 2003. She completed her internship and residency at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, South Carolina in 2004 and 2007 respectively. She completed the Harvard Medical School Palliative Care Education and Practice Program in 2009 and the Chopra Center Perfect Health Teacher's training in 2017.

Dr. Clark is a Healthcare Delivery Scientist and an Associate Professor at the University of Tulsa Oxley School of Health Sciences. She is also an independent consultant and serves as an executive advisor and palliative care physician for the Hillcrest HealthCare System. Her holistic view of medicine made the Institute for Healthcare Excellence (IHE) a good alliance for her.

She served as the Chief Medical Officer for Hillcrest HealthCare System and Hillcrest Medical Center from 2015-2017 and the Chief Quality Officer from 2014-2015. Dr. Clark has practiced Internal Medicine, Pediatrics and Palliative Care since 2007 and is board certified in Hospice and Palliative Medicine.

Dr. Clark's personal interests include spending time with her husband and two children, traveling, reading and cooking.