

Ilona Samara, MD graduated from Mustang High School, Mustang, Oklahoma, as a Valedictorian to pursue Bachelor degrees in Business and Science from Oklahoma City University in Oklahoma City. Graduated at the top of her class and continued her education as a medical doctor and completed medical school at University of Oklahoma School of Medicine in 2004. She finished her 3 year family medicine residency at OU Health Sciences Center in 2008 and started to work as a Family Physician since then. She became Board Certified in Family Medicine in 2009. She has been married to her husband, Tarek, for over 20 years and shares three children that keep her young at heart. She enjoys outdoor activities, cooking, and taking care of her family as well as her patients.

Dr. Samara is currently a member of American Academy of Family Physicians and the Institute for Functional Medicine that is associated with the Cleveland Clinic.