

Monica Mae Woodall DO, FACOFP is a board certified family medicine physician and practices in Durant, Oklahoma. She is currently employed by TexomaCare of Durant. She was born and raised in the Oklahoma City/Moore area and graduated from Westmoore High School. She attended Texas A&M University – Commerce for her undergraduate work and graduated Suma Cum Laude. She attended Oklahoma State University College of Medicine for her medical degree and completed her residency at Durant Family Medicine Residency and has been practicing in Durant since graduation. She just recently earned her fellow award from the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians at the national convention this year. Dr. Woodall volunteers her time as the physician on call for the Choctaw Grande Theater where she has been the personal physician for the bands Aerosmith, REO Speedwagon, Chicago, and Alice Cooper. Dr. Woodall is the medical director and physician volunteer for The Great Physician’s Pharmacy and Medical clinic, a free clinic serving Bryan County. She currently serves as the President of the Southeastern District Oklahoma Osteopathic Association. She also serves on two national ACOFP committees: Women’s Health and Leadership and Public Health and Wellness.