

William Wylie, DO, is a board-certified emergency medicine physician in Oklahoma City. He is a graduate of OSU College of Osteopathic Medicine and completed his residency in Emergency Medicine at Integris Southwest Medical Center where he currently serves as core faculty. He has a special interest in student and resident education having served as faculty at multiple residency programs for the last 15 years, including 5 years as a program director.