

David C. Kendrick, MD, MPH, FACP, earned his medical degree from the Oklahoma University College of Medicine in 1999. He then performed his internal medicine and pediatrics residencies, as well as earning his master's in public health at Tulane University School of Medicine in 2004. Board-certified in internal medicine and pediatrics, Dr. Kendrick is the principal investigator and CEO of MyHealth Access Network, Oklahoma's non-profit health information network, which ensures that every Oklahoman's complete health record is securely available where and when they need it for care and health decision-making. He is also the Department of Medical Informatics chair and the Assistant Provost for Strategic Planning for the OU Health Sciences Center.