

Timothy J. Moser, D.O., FACOFP, knew he wanted to be a physician at an early age and enjoys getting to know patients and helping them live healthier lives daily. Dr. Moser earned his undergraduate degree at the University of Oklahoma before pursuing medical school at the Oklahoma State University College of Osteopathic Medicine in Tulsa, OK. He then interned at Tulsa Regional Medical Center and completed his residency at OSU. He served as a physician in the U.S. Air Force (active duty), followed by several years of service in the U.S. Air Force Reserve. Board-certified in family practice, Dr. Moser is an active medical community member, participating on several committees and advisory boards as well as the OOA's 2019 past president. When not caring for patients, he enjoys flying remote control planes.
